What to Look for in a Pet Sitter

With Dorje, Megan, Wendy, and Mark

Dorje Dronma has been pet sitting for over ten years and provides the loving care she would give her very own family. She will speak about the benefits of having someone staying in your home to care for your pets.

Megan Gilana's love of animals was brought to a new level during the aftermath of Katrina, when she became co director/creator of an animal sanctuary in Arizona. She helped with training and caring for the cats and dogs that were rescued and still participates in getting each last one into their own home. Megan has been happy to meet such loving and kind pet owners in her work and is committed to offering their pets the same quality of care and attention that they are used to. She has been a caregiver for the elderly and a pet sitter for many years.

Wendy Groomes has worked with holistic veterinarians in their clinics and on a referral basis since 1999. She provided technician assistance, therapeutic massage, energy work, basic Tellington-Touch, flower essence therapy, nutritional and supplemental counseling, and grief-transition support for animals and their guardians. Wendy has been working as a pet sitter since 1999 and will be addressing the benefits of hiring an individual to get to know and care for your pets.

Mark Herrgott owns and operates Pack Place K9, a facility that offers Day Camp, Training, and Boarding. Mark has been professionally training and working with dogs for over 15 years. He started out as a foster for a local rescue, realized his calling, and transformed his hobby into a business helping over 30 dogs and their owners every day. Mark will talk about the benefits your dog receives in an environment where they can have fun, learn, and exercise.

Come learn more about pet sitters and doggie day care on Sunday, October 15th.
